

Patrick McGrath

Head of Policy

Go1

Patrick is back to update the conference about developments in politics since 2019.

Patrick will cover developments of the last three years including what Australia's response to Covid says about the nature of politics and the challenges of state and commonwealth relations. As well as what the results of the 2022 Election and a new Albanese Government mean for Australia moving forward.